FACILITIES, GENERAL.

The goats were released from their primary enclosure to graze in the woods next to their enclosure. The goats were free ranging about 50 yards away from a busy major roadway. These goats must be contained to prevent possible injury or death that could result from being struck by a car. This must be immediately corrected by returning the goats to their enclosure.

Correct by: Corrected at the time of inspection.

Exit interview conducted with a facility representative and APHIS employee Kurt Hammel.
