3.84(a)

CLEANING, SANITIZATION, HOUSEKEEPING, AND PEST CONTROL.

The wooden perches in the indoor enclosures housing the capuchin and the lemur are worn to the extent that the surfaces can no longer be sanitized as required. Sanitizing enclosures on a regular basis is part of a good disease control program. The wood in the enclosure that is no longer sealed due to age or chewing must be repaired or replaced. Correct by 1 May 2014
