FACILITIES, GENERAL.

3.125 (a) Structural Strength

Inside the animal room there are five plastic stands holding the enclosures. The top enclosures on each stand are not adequately secured at the top. The enclosures could potentially be knocked off causing injuries to the seven hedgehogs that are housed in these enclosures. There is one stand that has wheels in the back left corner when entering the animal room. This stand is leaning to the left, swaying from side to side, and is not structurally sound and could potentially cause injuries to the two hedgehogs if the stand falls.

Maintain all indoor facilities so that they are structurally sound and in good repair so protects the animals from injury.
