2.40(b)(2) REPEAT

ATTENDING VETERINARIAN AND ADEQUATE VETERINARY CARE (DEALERS AND EXHIBITORS).

A non-pregnant Female Yorkshire Terrier with USDA tattoo # OHDAN -58 was noted to have severe dental disease during the inspection. She has a heavy buildup of tan material adhered to her canine teeth, pre-molars and molars. Her gums have receded back from the tooth roots and a grey green substance has accumulated along the gum line, especially around the top canines. Several of her cheek teeth on both sides of her mouth are missing and there are loose back teeth on the right side. The program of veterinary care as well as instructions from the attending veterinarian should be followed to ensure adequate care for the animals. Untreated dental disease may lead to problems consuming food as well as several conditions, such as cardiac disease, that affect the health and well-being of the animal.

An adult female Bulldog with USDA tattoo # OHDAN -2B3 has a firm nodular mass between her toes on her front right foot. It is approximately the size of a small marble and is pink colored tissue. The animal did not appear painful and was not showing any favor to the foot at the time of the inspection. The mass may be indicative of a chronic foot injury or process that can have detrimental effects on the health of the animal without treatment.

Appropriate methods to prevent, control, diagnose, and treat diseases and injuries must be utilized. These dogs must be examined by a licensed veterinarian. Documentation of assessment, treatment, and plan for each dog shall be maintained for examination by APHIS officials.

OUTDOOR HOUSING FACILITIES.

This facility has an outdoor area that is used for exercise. This area does not have a shelter structure for the animals to get into during inclement weather. Without a shelter structure these dogs would not have a place to seek shelter from the wind, rain or snow. The Licensee must ensure that all animals have access to a shelter structure while the animals are housed in this area or the area is being used for exercise purposes.
