Veterinary care for dogs.

Three dogs had matted hair upon inspection. A female Pomeranian (Trixie #3313) had mats along her back and a few smaller mats in the groin area. The mats on the back were not tight, and the skin did not appear irritated. A male Pomeranian (#3797) had mats on the right shoulder, the tail, and behind the right ear. A Pomeranian (Fiesty #8862) had matted clumps of hair behind both ears. Matted hair can cause skin irritation or may be an indication of an underlying skin or ear issue. A regular grooming schedule should be part of a preventative care program to ensure healthy and unmatted hair coats. Corrected at the time of the inspection.

This inspection and exit interview were conducted with the licensee.
