Handling of animals.

On June 3, 2025, a 5yo male Dachshund "Blue" was dropped off at Los Angeles Airport (LAX) American Airlines Cargo for a scheduled departure on flight 134/LHR, AWB 001-12417064. The facility representative stated, at the beginning of the screening process, the dog escaped as it was not properly leashed and ran outside the cargo warehouse onto the air operations area (AOA). The Live Animal Incident Report states the "condition in which the animal was found: Injured/ Scratches on its paws." The transporter took the dog to a local veterinarian where it was treated and has since recovered. Failure to handle dogs in a secure and safe manner may negatively affect their health and wellbeing. Handling of all animals shall be done as expeditiously and carefully as possible in a manner that does not cause trauma, overheating, excessive cooling, behavioral stress, physical harm, or unnecessary discomfort.

This inspection and exit interview were conducted with the facility representative.
