2.131(c)(1) Critical

Handling of animals.

On December 13, 2025, while performing in a Christmas nativity scene, the licensee's 14-year-old castrated male dromedary camel kicked a woman in the audience in the head with his back left leg while being led by his handler down an aisle inside a church. The woman, who appeared to be knocked unconscious, was taken to a hospital for evaluation and treatment. APHIS received videos of the incident from a complainant. During this inspection, the videos were reviewed with facility representatives who confirmed the aforementioned information. A lack of sufficient distance and/or barriers between the animal(s) and the viewing public, during periods of public exhibition, can negatively impact the health and well-being of the public and animal(s).

During public exhibition, any animal must be handled so there is minimal risk of harm to the animal and to the public, with sufficient distance and/or barriers between the animal and the general viewing public so as to assure the safety of animals and the public.
