2.78(a)

Health certification and identification.

One (1) adult male common marmoset was consigned for auction without proof of a health certificate. Health certificates are important for ensuring that animals are healthy, fit for travel, and appear free of any infectious disease or physical abnormality that would be a danger to themselves, other animals, and the public. A health certificate issued by a licensed veterinarian, dated not more than 10 days prior to the transportation, must accompany all non-human primates.

3.87(a)(3)

Primary enclosures used to transport nonhuman primates.

One (1) adult male common marmoset was housed in a travel-style pet crate for its transport enclosure. The openings of the door (approx. 1x1 inch square) and ventilation openings along the sides were big enough to allow the nonhuman primate to extend its arms or other body parts outside the transport enclosure.

Openings large enough for nonhuman primate(s) to extend parts of its body through can lead to injury of the nonhuman primate(s) or to other animals or people nearby.

Primary enclosures used to transport nonhuman primates must be constructed so that the nonhuman primates are at all times securely contained within the enclosure and cannot put any body parts outside the enclosure in a way that could result in injury to the animals, or to persons or animals nearby.
