3.150(a) Critical

Facilities, general.

** One Cockatiel escaped from the walk- through aviary and was not recovered. The exit of the aviary does have an air curtain and vinyl strip curtain. There is approximately eight feet of safe space before the exit door. The exit consists of one metal solid door and a screen door. Overnight, the Cockatiel found its way through the air and vinyl curtain into the safe space. An employee arrived in the morning and opened the solid door with the screen door propped open. The bird escaped and was not retrieved. The facility has taken corrective action by providing additional training and posting warning signs on the doors to reenforce the standard operating procedure. All housing facilities must employ security measures that contain the birds securely.

This inspection and exit interview were conducted with Curator.
