2.131(c)(1)

Handling of animals.

- There is currently no public barrier separating the public from the buffalo enclosure fence, and there are no facility employees overseeing any potential public interactions with the animals. With the current setup, it is possible that members of the public could make contact with the animals if they were standing next to the enclosure fence. This poses a potential risk to both the animals and the members of the public. The facility must ensure that all animals are handled with minimal risk of harm to the animals and to the public. The facility must provide a barrier to prevent members of the public from making unauthorized contact with the animals.
