3.153(a)(1)(i)

Primary enclosures.

The enclosure in the digester building housing two black swans has a small section of wire at the base of the door that is bent into the enclosure with sharp points. These sharp points could be a potential hazard to the swans and this section of wire mesh needs to be addressed for the safety of the birds.

3.153(a)(2)

Primary enclosures.

The two peafowl housed indoors for winter housing do not have any perching or elevated areas that provides the ability to roost. These birds roost in trees or on perches and their enclosure needs appropriate perching that allows for these normal postural behaviors. This needs to be addressed for the health and comfort of the birds.
