(protocols) is important to maintain compliance and to allow the IACUC to ensure that the animal activities meet the AWA regulations. 2.31(e)

Repeat

Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee (IACUC).

Multiple teaching protocols to include EHES, GHES, RHES, CES, CFDP, FES, RC, RE, RF, and CFSP are missing several required elements. They do not include the total number of animals to be used, a rationale for that number, or complete descriptions of the procedures. The protocols also fail to identify the total number of labs to be conducted and a justification for the selected species. Incomplete descriptions of procedures do not allow the IACUC to fully understand and review the proposed activities involving animal use. This oversight is crucial to monitoring and enforcing animal welfare standards in research. All protocols submitted to the IACUC for review must contain all five components listed in this subsection, including the species and the approximate number of animals to be used, a rationale for the species and number of animals, a complete description of the proposed use of the animals, a description of procedures designed to assure that discomfort and pain to the animals will be limited to that which is unavoidable for the conduct of scientifically valuable research, and a description of any euthanasia method to be used.

This inspection was conducted with a facility representative and the exit interview was conducted with the attending veterinarian.
