2.131(b)(1)

Handling of animals.

During a review of the medical activity records, the inspector identified documentation referencing an injury involving a Southern three-banded armadillo. Further review determined that, on 06/29/2026, a keeper left the armadillo's enclosure door unlocked, allowing the animal to fall approximately 3–4 feet to the ground. A member of the public witnessed the incident and notified a nearby keeper, after which staff transported the armadillo for veterinary evaluation. The facility had no additional records available for review regarding the incident at the time of inspection.

Even though the animal was found to be in good health in this case, lack of careful handling resulted in the animal's fall and created a risk of physical harm, trauma, behavioral stress, and unnecessary discomfort, which could adversely affect the animal's well-being.

Handling of all animals shall be done as expeditiously and carefully as possible in a manner that does not cause trauma, behavioral stress, physical harm, or unnecessary discomfort.
