2.31(d)(1)(vi)

Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee (IACUC).

During inspection, a group of six pigs were observed interacting and slipping on flooring that appeared wet. These animals arrived earlier in the day and were socially housed by gender. The enclosure had some straw, but the pigs appeared to have activated the automatic drinking system and the resulting living conditions did not contribute to their health and comfort. Facility identified that not all these animals had been previously socially housed together at the vendor and addressed both the interactions and the wet floor during the inspection. Animals' living conditions will be appropriate for their species and contribute to their health and comfort in order to ensure their welfare.

Corrected during inspection on 30 April, 2026

This inspection and exit interview were conducted with facility representatives.
