2.40(b)(3) Critical

Attending veterinarian and adequate veterinary care (dealers and exhibitors).

Daily observations were not conducted on a female coati nursing offspring after she was given some pitted fruit on Aug 23, 2026. She was not observed on the 24th and found dead behind an exhibit rock on Aug 25, 2026 in the evening with a bloated body and damage done to the nipple area where it was assumed the offspring tried to nurse. Lack of daily observations failed to observe the mom had died or that the offspring were not nursing adequately.

The facility must have an ability to perform daily observations on all animals to assess their health and well being and have a mechanism of direct and frequent communication with the attending veterinarian so that timely and accurate information on problems of animal health, behavior, and well-being is conveyed to the attending veterinarian.

3.125(a) Repeat

Facilities, general.

Areas of chain link around the goat enclosure are in disrepair. Sections of chain link for one gate and along the back side of the goat enclosure are bent and broken with wires protruding into the enclosure which could potentially cause injury to the goats.

The indoor and outdoor housing facilities shall be maintained in good repair to protect the animals from injury and to contain the animals.

3.131(a)

Sanitation.

Feces are not being removed from the goat and coati mundi enclosure as often as necessary to keep the area clean and prevent contamination of the animals as they move throughout their enclosure.

The shelter area for the goats has an accumulation of feces throughout the area and outside the shelter that needs to be cleaned. The mineral block is on a dirty pan with feces and there is no clean area in the shelter where the goats can lay down without laying in their feces.

Inspection Report

 The four juvenile coatis are in a room where the floor, their crate, blankets and shelf are covered in feces caked into the wood and floor. There is a strong odor in the room and the animals are limited in where they can move to avoid contact with fecal material.

Feces shall be removed from primary enclosures as often as necessary to prevent contamination of the animals contained therein and to minimize disease hazards and to reduce odors. These enclosures need to be addressed for the health of the animals.

3.131(d)

Sanitation.

The facility does not have an effective program for the control of rodents in the barn area housing the pigs, rabbit, wallaby, porcupine and cavy. Despite the multiple live traps around the area, there is evidence of rodents destroying and living in the walls and feces throughout the area. This barn and other animal areas need to be addressed to prevent excessive rodents living and breeding in the area which can carry disease hazards.

A safe and effective program for the control of insects, ectoparasites, and avian and mammalian pests shall be established and maintained for the health of the animals.
